Asheville area immigration raid one of the largest

ASHEVILLE — Twelve Buncombe County restaurant workers were detained in one of the largest immigration raids in the mountains, according to a local immigrant’s rights group.

Agents with Immigration and Customs Enforcement went into the Shogun Buffet Hibachi Grill & Sushi restaurant at 1000 Brevard Road Tuesday, said Ada Volkmer with Defensa Comunitaria.

“ICE went in around 10 a.m. before the restaurant opened and arrested the employees,” she said.

Volker said the agents detained eight people from Latin American countries and four Asian immigrants ranging in age from 23 to about 40. Some of the immigrants were from Mexico and El Salvador, she said. She didn’t know from which Asian country the four immigrants came.

ICE southeastern spokesman Vincent Picard confirmed that agents went to the restaurant but refused to comment on any detentions.

“U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement’s Homeland Security Investigations agents investigating suspected violations of U.S. employment laws visited the Shogun Buffet restaurant in Asheville (Tuesday). Due to the ongoing nature of this investigation, no further information is available at this time,” he said in an emailed statement.

A cashier at the restaurant, which is in a strip mall south of Asheville and the Biltmore Square Mall, said managers were not in and that he could not give a number for the owner. Two calls back to the restaurant went unanswered.

County restaurant inspection records show the business’ permit holder as Jian Qing Wang. The restaurant is registered under the name Sandy Wang with the N.C. Secretary of State’s office.

Prior immigration raids in Western North Carolina included 57 people arrested at a Woodfin plant in 2008 and six people charged during a 2010 anti-gang operation at an Asheville restaurant.

Biggest pot bust in Cleveland County. Investigators find nearly a ton of pot in Shelby home

<http://www.shelbystar.com/news/sheriff-59971-county-historic.html>

SHELBY — Two men are in jail after investigators found more than 1,000 pounds of marijuana in their home.

The marijuana is worth more than $2 million, according to the Cleveland County Sheriff's Office.

Marcelino Guerrero-Serrano, 21, and Juan Hernandez-Carmana, 32, both from 1200 Cherryville Road, were charged with one count each of trafficking marijuana.

Investigators arrested the men Wednesday after searching their home. Both are being held on $150,000 secured bonds.

Sheriff Alan Norman said investigators received a tip about drug activity at the home and seized compressed marijuana from the bed of pickup truck and outbuilding on the property.

“To date, it’s the largest marijuana seizure in Cleveland County that I’m aware of,” Norman said.

Investigators also found $52,000 in cash at the residence. Both suspects are originally from Mexico. Norman said neither suspect could speak English. A law enforcement translator was on the scene during the arrest, he said.

Guerrero-Serrano is an illegal immigrant, according to Norman.

The cash was turned over to the U.S. Marshal's Service, Norman said. Seventy-five percent of the money will return to the sheriff's office. The marijuana will be weighed and tested for potency by a state lab.

"Hopefully, we'll save some young person from being poisoned by trying marijuana and escalating into a more potent drug later on in life," Norman said.

Three charged in human trafficking investigation

GREENVILLE, N.C. — Three people were arrested Friday following a search of a suspected brothel in Greenville as part of a federal and local investigation into human trafficking, authorities said Monday.

Oscar Salinas-Rodriguez, 37, was charged with adult victim sexual servitude and was being held in the Pitt County jail under a $100,000 bond. U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement also has an immigration detainer on him, meaning he is in the country illegally.

Authorities searched 5770 U.S. Highway 264 East and removed one woman they said had been forced to work as a prostitute there. The brothel operators lured the woman, who is from western North Carolina, to Greenville with the promise of a cleaning job, authorities said.

The woman had been at the brothel for about a week, authorities said, and the Salvation Army was working with her Monday to identify any services that she needs.

Kenia Susana Valdez-Gomez, 46, of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Jose Machado Castro, 20, of Wilson, were charged with soliciting for prostitution after the search. Both were being held in the Pitt County jail under $5,000 bonds.

Durham man charged in robbery, kidnapping

<http://abclocal.go.com/wtvd/story?section=news/local&id=8429759>

MORRISVILLE, N.C. (WTVD) -- A Durham man is spending his birthday in the Wake County Jail, after police here arrested him on a series of charges.

Rene Beristin Gonzalez, 19, is accused of stealing a 2004 Nissan Titan at gunpoint - and robbing one of the truck's owners.

Police eventually caught up to him - but when they did - investigators say he told them there was a bomb in the truck.

There was no bomb - but saying there is - is a crime. So, Gonzalez is charged with making a false bomb threat.

That charge - along with ones for resisting a public officer, not having a driver's license, breaking and entering, possessing a stolen motor vehicle, possessing burglary tools, robbery with a dangerous weapon, second-degree kidnapping, and larceny of a motor vehicle - earned Gonzalez a trip behind bars - with a bond of more than $315,000.

He's also accused of failing to appear on older charges.

Durham businessmen face prison for using illegal immigrants

<http://www.newsobserver.com/2011/11/04/1616416/brothers-fined-sent-to-prison.html>

DURHAM -- The owners of a Durham carpentry business will spend time in federal prison for harboring illegal immigrant workers.

A federal judge sentenced Juan Antonio Lopez-Ponce and Jose Alfredo Lopez-Ponce on Monday. The Lopez brothers were accused of hiring smugglers to bring workers into the country illegally to work in their framing business, J&A Framers and pleaded guilty in April to conspiring to harbor illegal aliens.

The brothers came to the United States illegally in the 1980s, but gained permanent residency status by marrying American citizens. They formed J&A Framing in the mid-1990s, and by the mid-2000s were running a profitable business working for large home building companies, according to federal prosecutors.

With labor accounting for 80 percent or more of the company's business, the brothers employed mostly illegal aliens from Mexico, sometimes paying them less than minimum wage, according to prosecutors.

U.S. District Judge Louise Flanagan sentenced Juan Antonio Lopez to 37 months in prison, followed by two years of supervised release, and a $45,000 fine. Flanagan sentenced Jose Lopez to 26 months in prison, followed by two years of supervised release,

DMV examiner in Lumberton and 2 illegal immigrants accused in fake ID scam

<http://www.fayobserver.com/articles/2011/11/17/1138013?sac=Crime>

LUMBERTON - A federal indictment accuses a Division of Motor Vehicles employee in Robeson County of taking bribes in exchange for issuing fake IDs to undocumented people, according to court documents.

Pablo Sarmiento, a driver's license examiner in Lumberton, is charged with one felony count of Social Security fraud in connection with an offense that took place Aug. 17.

Two other people, Francisco Salome-Ramirez and Jamie Cortes-Gonzalez, are charged with Social Security fraud and eluding examination and inspection by immigration, according to the indictment filed in federal court this month.

The indictment alleges that Salome-Ramirez and Cortes-Gonzalez fraudulently obtained forged and duplicated Social Security cards, birth certificates and other identification that belonged to real people.

The documents were then given to others to be used for getting photo identification from the DMV, including state-issued ID cards and driver's licenses, the indictment says. Salome-Ramirez and Cortes-Gonzalez charged the people a fee to coordinate the operation and ensure they were directed to Sarmiento's workstation, according to the indictment.

Salome-Ramirez and Cortes-Gonzalez paid Sarmiento to process and approve the photo identification based on the fake documentation, the indictment says.

The three defendants knew that the people seeking identification cards were not those whose names and information appeared on the documents, authorities say.

Once issued the photo identification, the individuals were then able to assume the identity of the people whose identities were stolen, the indictment says.

Salome-Ramirez and Cortes-Gonzalez are illegal Mexican immigrants who entered the U.S. through Arizona in 2001 and 1996, respectively, and who have been living under false identities since, according to court records.

Salome-Ramirez also is known as Melvin Cruz-Carrasco. Cortes-Gonzalez also is known as Victor Manuel Rosado-Santiago.

North Carolina DMV spokeswoman Marge Howell said Sarmiento has been an agency employee since May 2004 and was in the same district until he resigned Oct. 6.

There is no indication that any DMV employee other than Sarmiento was involved in the scheme, she said. Howell said she did not know how he alone could have ensured certain people came to his workstation.

Examiners review documents in the office and are trained to follow a strict set of guidelines, she said. They are supposed to scan any questionable documents and send them to headquarters for further review, she said.

"We are in the process, too, of upgrading our driver's license system that will require more scanning of more documents to come to headquarters to be given another once-over, especially ones with questions surrounding them," Howell said.

Driver In Angier Wreck Charged

<http://www.wtsbradio.com/pages/localnews.html>

The driver who allegedly caused a four-car collision that sent 11 people to area hospitals last week outside Angier faces four charges including driving without a license.

Alejandro Salas of Coats was driving a van that hit another car near the Angier city limits. While the two cars involved in that collision were in the road with their lights out, a third car hit them causing additional injuries and damage to the vehicles involved.

Mr. Salas now faces charges of driving without a license, improper passing, driving left of center and careless and reckless driving.

Harnett County District Attorney Vernon Stewart said his office is investigating whether or not Mr. Salas could have consumed alcohol.

“It is an ongoing investigation and there could be additional charges if we determine alcohol was involved,” Mr. Stewart said.

He said information on the additional charges should be released within the next five days.

Mr. Salas had three adult passengers in the van, along with two small children. Salas was taken from the scene in a UNC Hospitals Life Flight helicopter.

A spokesperson at UNC said he was not listed in the hospital system. She said it is possible the UNC Hospitals helicopter took him to a different hospital. Other injuries in the accident were not considered life threatening. The remaining 10 patients were taken to other area hospitals.
